

KOCKEN

SISTEMAS DE ENERGIA INC.

The Mission of Kocken is to transfer new and improved technologies to generate dynamic and profitable long term growth in the markets we serve and to support said technologies in their application.

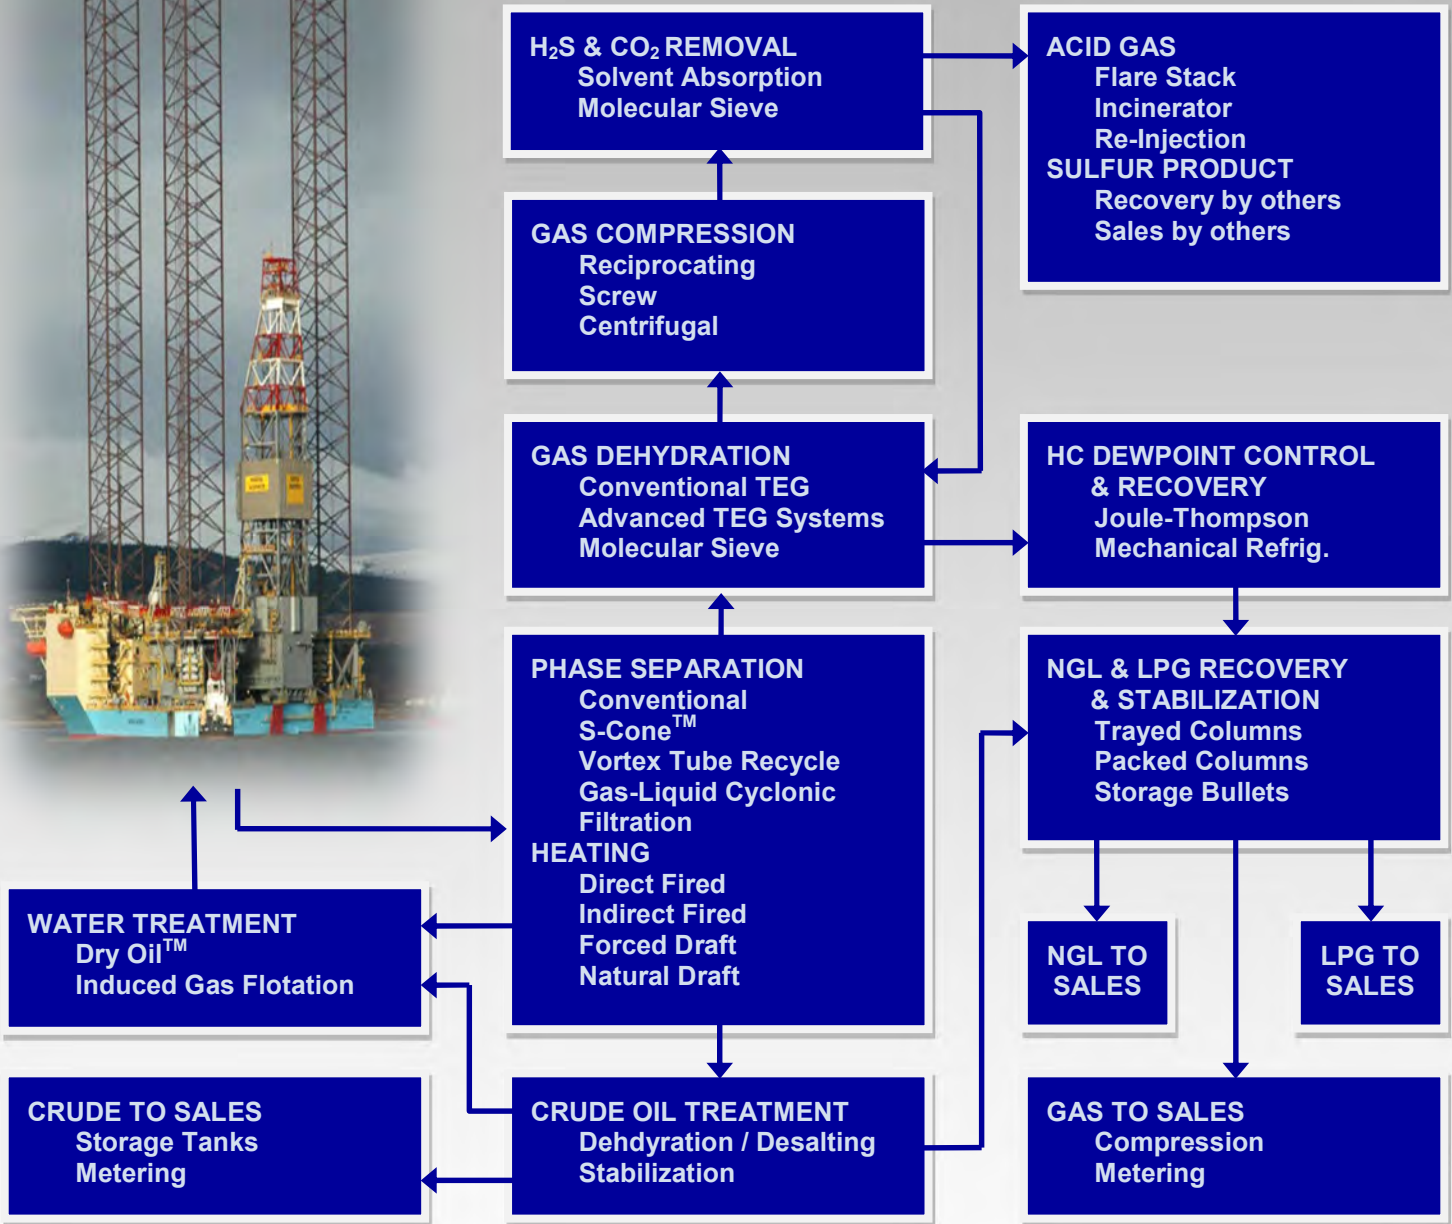

Our primary objective is to be able to offer the highest quality products and services in the least amount of time. We continuously strive towards the improvement of existing technologies and the introduction of new technologies into the global market we serve. Kocken has realized strategic alliances with both Canadian and Foreign suppliers of the highest quality and reputation to provide products with local-national content thereby supporting the markets in which we are employed.

The policies, objectives and commitment of Kocken is to offer high quality products and services that meet and exceed our customer expectations with the goal of achieving total customer satisfaction. In order to achieve this objective, Kocken has planned, established, implemented and maintained a Quality Program in accordance with the guidelines of ISO 9001:2000 (Certificate No.C2008-00609).
